

The 2016 Student Periodical Health Checkup Guide

1. The School Health and Safety Act mandates that all students in Japan receive an annual health checkup. Accordingly, all students who are enrolled at Tokyo University of the Arts are obliged to receive one to confirm their health conditions.

2. The university will NOT issue health certificates for students who failed to receive a periodic health checkup.

3. Students are encouraged to attend a session on the day designated as below. However, in case you can't make it on the day, you may come to receive a checkup on any day between April 6-8 (Note that the April 4 sessions accept only the first-year undergraduate students)

* No prior procedures are required. Please be aware that there are two separate sessions for male and female students each day.

* If you intend to participate in a teaching practice program in 2016, attend a session on April 6 in principle.

4. Those who intend to take a special medical examination of ionizing radiation or mercury, for example, should also attend a session according to the list below.
